What People are Saying!

"Dealing with difficult people is an essential aspect of successful business today. The section on the different types of listening was most useful."

- Darla Campbell,
President, Amonavi
Consulting Group Inc.

"Thank you for a great session on Saturday. I was most impressed with your grasp of the Crock A Doodle concept and how the entire session spoke to it. You clearly took the time to understand what I am trying to create here."

-Annette Brennan,
Founder, Crock A Doodle
Inc.

"An excellent presentation. Really makes you think about how you present yourself to others."

- Mike Tombolini,
HR Manager, RBG

The Marrek Group

TRAINING

COACHING

CONSULTING

We are The Marrek Group, a training, coaching, and consulting company committed to values-based skills development. Driven by a strong sense of commitment to personal values of integrity, excellence and passionate intensity, we believe that success in business is dependent on the ability to treat all people well - customers, suppliers, colleagues and employees.

What We Do:

We are experts in "soft" skills training in a "live" group-learning environment that connects, engages and inspires participants. When led by our professional facilitators/trainers, and following a well planned agenda, participants have the opportunity to think, respond, interact, role play and ask questions. This builds long lasting skills, teamwork and confidence beneficial to employers and employees.

We provide integrated strategies, practical solutions and results to our clients in a variety of areas by:

- ✓ Providing quality and custom designed training tailored to suit your needs (plus regularly scheduled classes for some of our most popular topics) as well as on-going support.
- ✓ Coaching for small business, career change or career growth.
- ✓ Employing holistic, values-driven, outcome-focused and practical principles. Our consulting services help you achieve higher performance in the areas important to you: customer service, strategic planning, human resources and more.

We partner with you to implement solutions that address the most pressing needs of your business. We transfer our knowledge and share our processes with you and your people to optimize your operational effectiveness. We offer proven methodologies and practices to ensure solutions are implemented quickly to achieve the expected results.

Some Benefits To You...

- ✓ Access 50 plus years of combined business acumen/experience.
- ✓ Save time and money when employee issues are resolved faster.
- ✓ Reduce conflict and increase communication by building strong employee/team/customer relations.
